2. Artwork Information (continued)

Artist Statement - A detailed story about the creator, their artistic inspiration and the creation process of the specific artwork for viewer's understanding.

1190 is a song inspired by saxophonist Grover Washington's funky jazz groove and created in November of 1990 in Tokyo. This was recorded on an 8 track analog tape machine sync by time code to playback MIDI tracks. This process was typical just before the recording technology transformed itself to computer based digital audio recording. I created this song because I had set up a nice sounding fat MIDI drum track with a nice synth bass line to compliment the groove.

Bob Antolin is a producer, composer, band leader and multi-instrumentalist. He began playing the saxophone and guitar in elementary school and went on to get a music degree from the University of Washington. Loving classical music, jazz and music from around the world, Bob gets inspiration from every corner of the world. Bob was honored with the Golden Ear Award by Earshot Magazine for the Best Alternative Jazz Ensemble of the year in 2019 for his band, Comfort Food Band.
