2. Artwork Information (continued)

Artist Statement - A detailed story about the creator, their artistic inspiration and the creation process of the specific artwork for viewer's understanding.

I'm Bink Walstra, but most people know me as "Bonkstraa". I'm a 19-year-old software-development student living in the Netherlands, with a passion for digital art. About 2-3 years ago I started using Blender, this is where my artist journey started. Back then, I discovered an interest in creating 3D artwork. I started following tutorials, posting on Instagram and most importantly: developing my style while creating a workflow that fits my creative process.

I really enjoy creating procedural art and using the human body as a base for my artwork. This style/workflow is something that can be seen in almost all my creations. Quite recently (about 5-6 months ago) I started creating NFTs. This led to a ton of new people starting to interact with my work and come to my socials. My Instagram especially has grown a lot over the past few months, from almost 2000 to 28 000 followers. I'm still amazed with the amount of people that like my work and support me.

My SolarHeads and my Embodiments of Emotions projects on OpenSea are something I'm very proud of. It's incredible to see a small community form around artwork you have created. These past months have really been a rollercoaster. 2-3 years ago, when I started using Blender, I would never have guessed all these crazy things happening. I really love creating art, and that passion has only been growing over the past couple years.

I'm truly amazed that something which started as a hobby has grown out to something very life changing. Something that is only possible with a great group of supporters and followers around me, they are highly appreciated!

As I said earlier, I'm also a software-development student. Because of this, I wanted to try to make a piece with as little input (from a human) as possible, but with a lot of interesting output (from the machine). I wanted to see what could be made by mainly using generative and procedural techniques. These techniques involved particle systems and a lot of modifiers, like the "build" and the "decimate" modifier within Blender.

Azurebot shows human input being important, machines can't operate on their own. Key features of the human face can't be replaced. Like the nose, eyes and ears. These features can't be overtaken by machines. The blue lines display slow but controlled development of machines/humans. Azurebot is a piece about the importance of a human.
