Artist Statement - A detailed story about the work for viewer's understanding.

Memoriam Statue erected in front of Lunaria's gates in memory of First Man's journey into the great unknown for the greater good of all.. Representing his immortal spirit and bravery.

This relic was made with First Man's actual skeleton, mummified in artificially deactivated "LTT" ashes, the most precious resource of our galactic cluster for its evergreen properties and since this was the foundational technology behind the colony's life thriving success. It is believed that First Man still watches over the colony from this statue.

Despite its evergreen qualities, artificially deactivated LTT or Burned LTT doesn't sprout and grow back into a living tree, yet processes extremely potent preservative properties.

Moon mission, a decade of preparation, will be launching soon and deployed on the most advanced technology available to humanity to this day. Crypto and NFTs.

Be part of this epic journey into the great unknown. The mission: Land on the moon and gain glory. Yet who knows what awaits us? Just like journeying into the cryptospace, this is uncharted territory and no one knows what's ahead of us... Only the brave... Only.
