Artist Statement - A detailed story about the work for viewer's understanding.

I am Khalid, a Sudanese artist. I love art because it is a way for me to vent and release my stress, as well as transmitting these injustices to verbally explain visions and thoughts.

This artwork was the result of an idea that I have always thought of, which is: "What would I do if I ever became really rich and successful?" We, as humans, have the ability to adapt to whatever. Don't get me wrong, I come from a poor family in Sudan that is still living in houses made of mud mixed with cow dung, so I certainly don't wish to live in the same poor condition forever. However, I am a visionary and I can't help it. When I picture myself in the prime of my success with all the accomplishments lying around, I can't help but think what would the meaning of my life be from that point. And as what Oh il-nam from the series Squid game said "Do you know what people who have no money have in common with people who have too much money? Living is no fun." But I guess I'll never know till I reach that point.
