Artist Statement - A detailed story about the work for viewer's understanding.

The Cosmic Soulstones were five gems originally created to contain the essence of the Five Beings. While they were unsuccessful in this regard, they were eventually revealed to impart special powers to whoever wields them.

This Particular soulstone was intended for the Fire Being.

Mastery of fire, heat and radiance is granted to its owner when wielded. Its lustre entices lootizens to it. It was hidden in the lava fields of Hades before being retrieved by Diyufang in the cave of remembrance. Now in the Lootverse, the keepers of the original flame have made it available to Aya Curators to place in the Arena for he who would show might and bravery on the battlefield.

This artwork is my interpretation of what such an object would look like. Using procedural techniques to create a fractal design of a gem embedded in rock. Paying special attention to the colour palette and using it to distinguish between the different Soulstones. Using lighting to create an otherwordly and fantastical look to it. I wanted the viewer to be entranced by it, to be able to stare into it. To wonder, what is this thing? What does it represent? To feel the textures, to imagine what it would be like to hold it, to be there in the environment.

Ultimately, this set of five is meant to be a grand collection of artistic pieces akin to the Fabergé eggs, something highly collectable that represents my signature style
